PRINCIPAL'S DESK:

It brings me immense joy and pride to present the latest edition of our college newsletter. This publication serves as a vibrant chronicle of our journey, capturing the energy, achievements, and intellectual pursuits that define S.B.M.S. College. It is not merely a summary of events but a testament to the collective resilience, creativity, and dedication of our academic community. S.B.M.S. College has always stood for academic excellence, character building, and holistic development. Our mission extends beyond the boundaries of traditional classroom teaching; we strive to nurture young minds into critical thinkers, innovators, and empathetic leaders of tomorrow. In an era marked by rapid technological and societal transformations, our focus remains steadfast on providing an education that harmoniously blends contemporary global competencies with deeply rooted ethical values.

Looking back at the past academic term, we have witnessed several remarkable milestones. Our faculty members have continued to push the boundaries of research and innovation while mentoring students to achieve outstanding results in examinations. Simultaneously, our students have excelled beyond the academic sphere, bringing laurels to the institution through their achievements in sports, cultural festivals, and inter-collegiate competitions. These accomplishments reflect the diverse talents nurtured on our campus and reaffirm the success of our student-centric approach to education.

Apart from academic and co-curricular achievements, our institutional commitment to social responsibility remains one of our greatest strengths. Through the active engagement of the National Service Scheme (NSS), National Cadet Corps (NCC), and various departmental outreach programmes, our students have demonstrated a deep sense of civic responsibility and community service.

As we move forward, we remain committed to expanding our horizons to prepare our students for the future. We are continuously modernizing our laboratories, enriching our digital library resources, and integrating smart classroom technologies to create a more interactive and inclusive learning environment. New certificate courses and industry-oriented workshops will be introduced in the coming days to bridge the gap between academic learning and professional expectations.

Dear SBMSians, your time at S.B.M.S. College is a transformative phase of your life. Dare to think differently, ask questions, embrace failures as stepping stones to success, and cultivate the habit of lifelong learning. The world values individuals who are adaptable, resilient, and compassionate.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK:

As the Jan-Jun, 2026 issue of the SBMS College Newsletter sees the light of day, the college enters its 64th year of proud service. This issue reflects the vibrant academic life at SBMS College over the past six months and invites reflection on how we can sustain excellence in classrooms, laboratories, libraries, and other informal learning spaces.

The current state of affairs in higher education is significant: the first FYUGP cohort under Gauhati University has successfully completed its third year. Their progress demonstrates our adaptability. But the cloud of uncertainty looming over the prospect of their continuation to the fourth year calls for clear communication and continued institutional support to encourage and preserve student momentum.

SBMS College is also preparing to welcome the first B.Sc.-B.Ed. batch under ITEP in the coming session. This integrated programme will further distinguish the college as a prominent centre of higher learning, now offering six undergraduate programmes: BA, B.Sc., B.Com, BCA, B.Voc, and B.Sc.-B.Ed.

Our pride is amplified by individual student successes. Lieng Macau Deka, a sixth-semester Zoology student, successfully completed an internship with the CM Green Fellowship at the NOVA University, Lisbon, Portugal, during the last six months. Nikhil Kr. Das, a sixth-semester Physics student, secured first place in the PG entrance examination conducted by the Department of Physics, Tezpur University. These achievements reflect our students' hard work and the quality of mentoring they receive.

Let this issue serve as both a record of our accomplishments and a roadmap for the future: encouraging us to celebrate achievements, expand opportunities, and ensure transparent planning as we scale new heights through rigorous teaching and student-centred support.

Thank you to every student, faculty member, non-teaching staff member, honorable vice principal and principal sir for your unwavering support in publishing the newsletter. Let us carry this momentum into the next half of the year with curiosity, resilience, innovation, and collaboration.
